The "Career Day" in Chania, the 17th city in Greece where the event takes place, aims to strengthen the labour force and promote employment at a local level.

DYPA's Career Days, which have been established as a successful institution, offer the opportunity for free networking between businesses and candidates from Chania and the wider area and to explore new potential collaborations and partnerships.

Participants will have the opportunity to:

- Communicate directly, without a prior appointment, with businesses representatives looking for staff,
- carry out on-site online interviews with businesses
- Receive information from expert DYPA counsellors and executives of the Service Unit for Medium-sized and Large Enterprises (MEMME) on DYPA's actions and services.
