The EURES Network

The EURES (EUROpean Employment Services) European Network was launched in 1994 to coordinate transnational labour mobility policy in line with the European Union's basic principle of free movement of workers (Article 3 of the Treaty on European Union and Article 45 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union).

The Network promotes cooperation between the European Labor Authority (ELA), the Public Employment Services of the Member States of the European Union (EU), as well as the European Free Trade Area (EFTA), which includes the countries Norway, Iceland, Liechtenstein and Switzerland.

The main roles of the EURES network are to provide information, advice and recruitment or placement services, but also to take action to facilitate jobseekers in other European countries. In addition, it provides specialized services to employers in order to find suitable candidates for employment.

EURES services are offered free of charge.

It is addressed to jobseekers and employers.

EURES Targeted Mobility Scheme (TMS)

- It offers dedicated support from National Employment Services for people seeking work, training or apprenticeships in another EU country, Norway or Iceland.
- On a fair basis, it tackles the needs of jobseekers to remove mobility obstacles.
- It helps employers in these countries who are looking for motivated and qualified workers.
- Available support includes funding to cover things like language courses, getting your qualifications recognised, travel and subsistence expenses.
